

WILL STAGE FIGHT AS SCHEDULED

Big Bout Put Back on Feet After Being Called Off

Dempsey and Gibbons Will Meet in Ring as Scheduled—Kearns Will Gamble for Final Instalment Due Dempsey.

(By The Associated Press)
GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 3.—The Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons fight, suddenly called off at midnight, was put back on its feet again today and will be decided in the big bowl at Shelby tomorrow as scheduled. Jack Kearns, manager of the world's heavyweight champion, had a conference with the promoter, which was held at 2:45 a. m. at which he agreed to send Dempsey into the ring against the St. Paul challenger tomorrow and gamble for the final $100,000 installment due Dempsey on his $200,000 guaranteed. The promoter guaranteed the preliminary expenses of the show which includes the payment of the boxers in the preliminaries, $5,000 to the referee and other incidental expenses which will amount to about $10,000. Major J. E. Lamm, of Lewistown, Mont., who resigned as trustee for the promoters yesterday after failing to raise Dempsey's $100,000, decided to continue as trustee and assist the promoters in untying the middle. Kearns will have all state receipts until the champion's $100,000 is obtained. The gate receipts then will revert to promoters. Loy J. Mollumb, of Great Falls, is again in control as promoter, assisted by his associates, who conceded the idea of having Dempsey risk his title in the boom town of the plains. Mayor Johnson, of Shelby, who risks $150,000 in the venture, also is on the case. The fight was actually called off at 12:30 o'clock after an angry argument between Kearns and George H. Stanton, in a room crowded with newspaper men. Stanton told Kearns that the $100,000 which the champion had demanded was not available, and as saw no prospect of raising it.

GIBBONS' MANAGER SHOWS GRATIFICATION
(By The Associated Press)
SHELBY, Mont., July 3.—Eddie Keen, manager of Tommy Gibbons, expressed gratification today when he learned that the fight would be held. He said: "Tommy Gibbons will be the champion of the world. I am going to meet the champion after all. I had to tell him yesterday that there was no prospect of raising it. I think Kearns did a pretty thing, agree to go through with it." Keen added.

OPRY—REYNOLDS
On Monday at 1:30 p. m. a beautiful wedding was solemnized in Sacred Heart church, Holbrook, where Miss Lillian Russell became the bride of Walter Joseph O'Neil. Rev. Father Hahle, priest in charge, performed the ceremony. The costume worn by the bride was of navy tulle with accessories to match and a bouquet of Columbia roses. Miss Annie May Reynolds, dame of honor, wore gowns of bird's-egg-blue, black and Spanish lace, black picture hats and carried Columbia roses. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom motored to Chatham, where they boarded a train for Washington, New York, Niagara Falls and other points. After an extended trip they will return to Danville and make their home in Mountain View.

Lieut. Gail Alexander Wins British Medal For Heroic Act On Battlefield

A posthumous reward for bravery in the European war has been made by the British government. It was learned today, to Lieutenant Gail Alexander, son of Mrs. K. F. Alexander, of this city. H. T. Williams, who is commander of the American Legion Post in Danville conducted correspondence with the British government on the subject, received a letter today from London stating that the Danville man has been awarded the 1914-15 star for gallantry in action. The medal will be forwarded to his mother here, the grant having been formally approved by the government which made a painstaking investigation. Lieutenant Alexander was in an advance position with his company when it became necessary to locate a German machine gun nest which had been a source of considerable trouble. The Danville man offered to undertake the task. He clambered over the parapet in plain view and fell

Town Topics

Rev. Charles B. Austin, pastor of West Washington Baptist church, Washington, D. C., arrived in the city yesterday to assist Rev. J. D. Kessler in a 10-days meeting at Ringgold Baptist church. The meeting began last night and was largely attended. There will be services every evening this week at 7:45.

The Danville W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Ladies' Parlor of Mt. Vernon church Wednesday afternoon, July 4, at 4:30 o'clock. A good attendance is desired.

C. E. Holland, who was recently operated upon at the General Hospital, has recovered to the extent that he has been removed to his home at 1015 Stokes street, and will, his condition continuing to improve, be able to be out soon.

With the exception of the morning baseball game between Greensboro and Danville and a game in the afternoon between the Legionnaires and the Kiwanis, Rotarians and Lions, there is no set program for tomorrow's observance of Independence Day. The day, however, will be a general holiday with the banks closed also the postoffice and many offices and mercantile establishments. Several fishing parties have been arranged and if the weather is fine there will be picnics and rural excursions by automobilists.

Owing to the Fourth of July there will be no prayer meeting at Main Street M. E. church, on Wednesday evening.

E. J. Sarri, who recently resigned as secretary of the Young Men's Business Club on account of the ill-health of his wife, leaves today with Mrs. Sarri for her home in Wisconsin where she is seriously ill. Since Mr. Sarri came here from the northwestern State, Mrs. Sarri's health has failed to such an extent that a physician ordered that she be taken back to her home. This resulted in Mrs. Sarri's resignation from the Y. M. B. C. He stated yesterday that his plans for the future had not been made.

Reports reaching here from Rocky Mount, where Witcher Smith is a patient in the sanitarium, state that the Danville youth, painfully injured during an automobile wreck, is not as seriously hurt as was at first believed. It was first reported that he sustained a broken hip but this has developed not to be the case. He was said last night to be resting comfortably.

STRUCK BY AUTO
(Special to The Bee)
RICHMOND, July 3.—William B. Reams, aged 74, is in Memorial Hospital in a critical condition as a result of having been struck by an automobile alleged to have been driven by Mrs. R. K. Smith at the hospital. This afternoon it was said Reams was unconscious and it was feared his skull was fractured. His condition is regarded as critical.

J. STERLING TAYLOR DEAD
(Special to The Bee)
RICHMOND, July 3.—J. Sterling Taylor, 54, for more than twenty years secretary and treasurer of the Richmond Insurance Company of Richmond, died Sunday in his home here after an illness of about a fortnight. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, with interment in Hollywood.

riddled with bullets. His sacrifice, however, resulted in the direction of the machine gun nest being located and it was shortly afterwards wiped out. The letter received today from Captain C. N. Jewell, director of personal services is as follows: "Sir:—With further reference to your letter dated October 21st 1922, I am directed to inform you that the medal of an officer or soldier who dies in the service are disposed of according to regulations laid down by royal warrant. These regulations determined that in the event of a will having been duly made, the medals will be sent to the person named in the will as being intended to receive them or as being general or residuary legatees of the estate. "I am to request therefore that you will be so good as to ascertain the name and address of the person legally entitled in accordance with the above quoted regulations to receive the 1914-15 star earned by the late Lieutenant G. H. Alexander, U. S. A. for service as No. 631 private 5th Canadian Infantry battalion. I am to add that if the late officer died intestate or if his will cannot be taken into consideration they are the property of his next of kin. "I am, sir, "C. N. JEWELL, "Captain director of personal services."

W. J. Bryan In Richmond Speech Says Mask Is Off Wet Forces

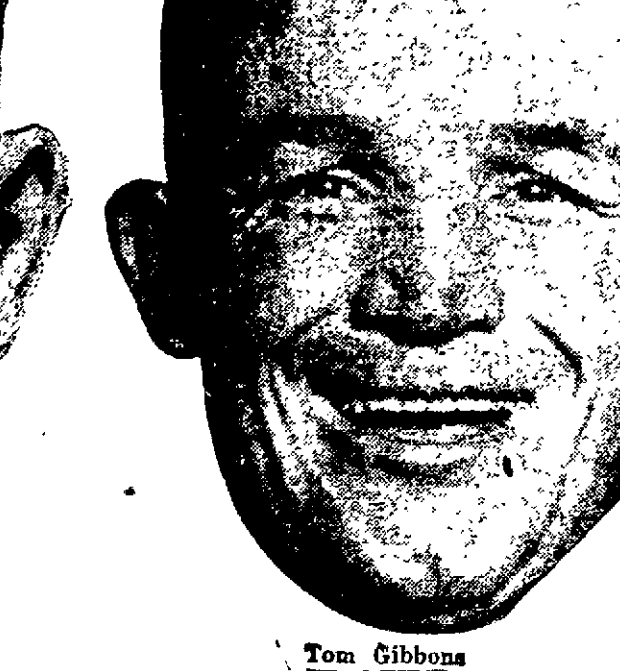

(Special to The Bee)
RICHMOND, Va., July 3.—Breaking his silence on the action of Governor Al Smith and the New York Assembly in removing New York State liquor law, W. J. Bryan, declared in an address here last night that the wet forces have thrown off the mask and are for unbridled and open lawlessness without restraint of any sort. Mr. Bryan said he believed the ultimate effect of the repudiation would be to the advantage of the dry cause.

Whipping Boss Takes Stand In His Own Defense

Tells Jury He Gave But Eight Lashes to Tabert and It Was His Duty.

(By The Associated Press)
LAKE CITY, Fla., July 3.—Thomas W. Higginbotham, former convict whipping boss of the Putnam Lumber Co., told the jury today at his trial for murder of Martin Tabert, of North Dakota, that it was his duty to whip Tabert. He said he gave Tabert eight lashes. The State is contending that Tabert died from an excessive whipping by Higginbotham. State witnesses saying that 50 to 100 lashes were applied. In his sworn testimony, Higginbotham gave in detail his duties as a whipping boss or deputy warden in a convict camp. He gave his age as 35 years and claimed he weighed 135 pounds. In reply to questions by Roy Chapman, of defense counsel, he said he was a native of Florida and had served for more than a year in France with the A. E. F. The witness told the jury he had whipped Tabert because he was reported for not working. He said Tabert had been reported three times.

Good Progress Is Made On Docket Corporation Court

With many of the cases on the Corporation court docket already disposed of, the second day's session began this morning with the trial of Joe Johnson, colored, who is charged with his third offense under the state liquor law. Johnson was put on trial for two recent seizures of whiskey, one of these being three gallons at his home. Johnson's case went to the jury just before 1 o'clock and a verdict was returned sentencing him to serve two years in the penitentiary. The evidence of the state was that while Ruth Riley occupied the quarters on Newton street where the police found the liquor, it was rented by Johnson. The defense sought to show that the woman was responsible for the liquor after she had pleaded guilty and taken 30 days in jail and a fine. The trial of L. H. Brooks, Frank Flood and Elias Womack indicted for a misdemeanor in connection with their alleged failure to bury the remains of a colored infant committed to their charge by W. R. Murdock, has been continued until the next term of court. Announcement was made this morning that Dr. Raymond Scruggs, a vital witness for the state, is out of town on his vacation and that the case could not be tried without him. Dr. Scruggs' record showed he was under $500 bond in the case. A witness for the defense, Martin Smith, is still in jail. Fred Smith, colored, jointly indicted with Womack for stealing an automobile belonging to G. L. Baker of Charlotte, N. C., pleaded guilty yesterday evening and was sentenced to serve two years. His wife was freed on a nolle prosequi after both of them had been under $500 bond.

Proposes Tax On Billboards Along Highways

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 3.—A new source of revenue will be proposed at the next session of Congress by Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip of the Senate. While he has not perfected the details, Senator Curtis said today he had given much thought to billboards and signs which are springing up like mushrooms along the highways of the country as a fit subject for federal taxation and had decided to urge a tax on them based on the square feet of space in each. In the opinion of Senator Curtis such a tax would prove a fruitful source of revenue without imposing a burden on the public at large. He will not suggest a tax on signs exposed by dealers on their own property.

Health Officer To Renew His Urge For Building Of New Almshouse

City Health Officer R. W. Garnett is expecting a visit this week from Frank Bane, superintendent of the State Public Welfare Department, with a view to discussing with him the improvement of the city almshouse. Mr. Bane was here some months ago and went over the city poorhouse and at the time recognized that definite improvements should be made with this particular problem. Dr. Garnett states that he is anxious that something be done as soon as possible about the almshouse and he intends to renew his urge on the council that steps be taken for a definite improvement. He has been trying to secure a meeting of the Public Welfare committee but has found that L. R. Conway, chairman, is out of the city also G. P. George, Jr., leaving R. F. Carter the only remaining member in town.

The city health officer still believes that the city farm should be developed and that the almshouse should be placed there. His plan is to develop the farm and utilize city prison labor on it during the open months under which plan he believes it could be made a paying proposition and that much food stuff could be used for the inmates of the almshouse. Just how soon any response to the request for action made by the city ministers some months ago will come is still problematical. The almshouse development plan at the present time is in statu quo. The original plan had been to pay for the proposed building through the issue of a bonded loan of $10,000 and additional money to be derived through the purchase by the school board of the present almshouse and its surrounding property this to be used as the site of the proposed Westmoreland school. With the school question likely to be thrashed out in the courts there is little chance of the money derived through the sale of the almshouse being made available any time soon.

The welfare committee is reported to be divided still on the question of undertaking the new almshouse project this year or next year and there is still a division of opinion as to where it shall be placed.

O. T. Cook Quits Police Department

It was announced this morning at police headquarters that Patrolman O. T. Cook, who has been an efficient member of the force for a little over two years, has tendered his resignation to Chief of Police James R. Bell, to take effect as soon as possible. Cook will present a formal resignation for action by Mayor Harry Wooding this afternoon. It was said that Cook is resigning to accept a responsible position here as representative of the Wheeling Steel Company, which is opening an employment exchange on Craghead street. Cook, who will have charge of the employment office of the concern here, stated that after considering all phases, he had decided to accept the offer of the company. In giving his reason for resigning, Cook stated that he had merely secured a better position with larger opportunities with more lucrative pay, and also there would be no Sunday work attached to it. Those who have had dealings with Cook and have watched his work as a patrolman, agree that he has been one of the most efficient officers on the force. Mayor Wooding, Chief of Police Bell and other members of the department spoke highly of his services this morning. Cook was elected in June two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Johnny J. Jones, who was killed on North Main street by a train run set by Irvin Pierce, colored. When the regular election came up Cook was elected for another term. Cook has excelled a sense of judgment which has made him a good officer. His treatment toward prisoners, without arrest has always been courteous but at the same time he has been positive with them. The police commission will meet next Tuesday at which time a successor will probably be elected. Cook leaves the department after tomorrow, it is understood.

Poured Hot Soup Down Wife's Neck

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
CHICAGO, July 3.—Drinking soup was a sort of rite with Dr. Abraham J. Weissmann, who wanted it just the same, although he was so hot and could absorb large quantities at each gulp and get the full benefit. His wife, Fanny, did her best to meet this requirement, but recently when Mr. Weissmann came home, he found that she had gone on his vacation before the summoning officer appeared. The defendants are under $500 bail.

Rufus, colored, charged with killing his wife Loula, has been continued until next term in order to allow defense counsel more time to formulate a defense. It would not be surprising if the "unwritten law" were to be invoked by the defense in this case. Martin is still in jail. Fred Smith, colored, jointly indicted with Womack for stealing an automobile belonging to G. L. Baker of Charlotte, N. C., pleaded guilty yesterday evening and was sentenced to serve two years. His wife was freed on a nolle prosequi after both of them had been under $500 bond.

Carl Smith was acquitted by a jury of stealing an automobile from Alec Davis but is held still for the Chattanooga authorities. A four year sentence is hanging over him in the Pittsburg circuit court. Smith was tried last term and sentenced to serve a year in the penitentiary. The judgment was set aside pending observation in the Marion asylum. He and his second trial took place yesterday.

A capias issued for Mike Callas was served yesterday evening. Callas operates a hotel on lower Main street and is indicted for pandering. He appeared in court this morning and pleaded $1,000 bond. George Stefance security for a hearing on Thursday. Yesterday, Wall Marshall pleaded guilty to a charge of pandering with Jane Woodforth of Richmond, a young girl being the accused witness. The girl is the principal witness against Callas.

Tom Pace, a young colored man indicted for an offense against public morals yesterday, was remanded to the Petersburg insane asylum for colored people today for observation. It is suspected that he is insane and he will be examined by state clinicians this morning.

An interesting point was raised in the trial of Fred Little who was given 90 days in jail for whipping his wife Fannie. When the woman was called to the stand counsel for the accused objected to her testifying claiming that she could claim immunity and that she did not have to testify against her husband. The state objected and called attention to the state law which provides that on such matters shall be enjoyed when the case in point involves an attack upon the wife.

Speaking at the Eightieth Anniversary of the Blazing of the Oregon Trail

(By The Associated Press)
MEACHAM, Oregon, July 3.—President Harding stopped here today on his western trip to pay homage to the memory of the sturdy pioneers who founded Oregon and saved to the nation the great northwest.

Speaking at exercises commemorating the eightieth anniversary of the blazing of the Oregon Trail, the executive declared the American people owe to those pioneers a debt of gratitude which they never can repay. Their victory, he asserted, proclaimed the strength of resolute purpose to do for themselves, not asking the government to do, but for government only to sanction or permit. "We may reasonably do more today," he said, "than rejoice in possession of the imperial domain which they revealed, and the life they made possible to the virile, aspiring and confident Northwest. I find new assurances in recalling the heroism, the resolution, the will to conquer of these pioneers."

"I wish I might more effectively visualize them. Not long ago I saw the covered wagon in the moving picture. I sat entranced. There was more than the picturesque, more than sorrow and discouragement, more than appealing characters and enthralling heroism. There was more than the revelation of the irresolute, who failed in fitness to survive, more than tragedy and comedy in their inseparable blend. There was more than the scouts who surpassed our fancies, more than nature's relentless barriers revealed. Everywhere aflame was the soul of unalterable purpose and the commanding steadfastness of elemental greatness. Still more there was determination to do themselves, not asking the government to do, but for government only to sanction or permit."

Much the same spirit was revealed in the blazing of the Central West, where the determined pioneers built in the confidence which they had in themselves. They battled with nature and every obstacle which they encountered, heroes perished without name's acclaim, and they conquered and won to their part in the making of the greater Republic. Their victory proclaimed the strength of resolute purpose, and the human genius, confidence in itself an eager to achieve on its own account. "The spirit of the pioneers to impress itself in this test of self-reliance citizenship there came the rugged, militant, wholesome West, greater things were wrought, larger accomplishment was recorded, greater victory was achieved, the wholesome, inspiring individualism than will ever be paternalism or government assumption of the tasks which are the natural inheritance of the builders who may better serve for themselves. Government may provide opportunity, but the worth while accomplishment is the privilege and the duty of men."

BROSVILLE WILL CELEBRATE 4TH WITH ORATORY

Brosவில் is preparing for its annual Fourth of July celebration which will be held in the church grove not far from the Junior Hall. W. Dodson states that plans have been made for an impressive celebration of Independence Day to start about nine in the morning and to continue through the evening. There will be a basket picnic, good music and a feast of oratory in the form of the day. Congressman J. Murray Hooke, from this district has accepted an invitation to make an address and Attorney General John S. Saunders has written saying that he will come if possible. The Junior Order United American Mechanics and the Daughters of Liberty of the Brosville council will serve refreshments on the grounds. Mr. Dodson states that the people of the community are planning to make the celebration one of the largest of any held at that spot of recent years.

LIQUOR BANDITS MAKE BIG PRIVATE HAND
CHICAGO, July 2.—Six liquor bandits invaded the home of H. T. Hollnagel, a prominent business man, and looted Mrs. Hollnagel's daughter and two servants in a closet and robbed the house of liquor valued according to the police at $15,000.

COMMUNITY CAMP OPENS ON FRIDAY

Danville Community Camp that the boys of the city have been so anxious about will open Friday July 6th for the first period and will be open continuously until the end of August. A fine lake of clear spring water has been built and other improvements made at the expense of the three local organizations, Rotarian Lions and Kiwanis Clubs. The camp will be in complete charge of the Physical Director George N. Savage of the city Y. M. C. A., assisted by Ralph Hinga, a Danville boy of great promise and a graduate of the High school. A regular program of camp activities will be put on and every thing possible done to assure the boys a good time as well as a beneficial one. Regular hours for everything and everything on time will be one thing that the camp leaders will strive for.

Applications for camp must be made through the local Y. M. C. A. in plenty of time as at present the camp will be limited to thirty-two at any one time. The tents will be pitched on a high ridge above the dam and will have fine range. A beautiful spring enclosed in concrete will also appeal to the thirsty.

FILM FIRES ARE BEING REDUCED

CHICAGO, July 2.—Removing 90 percent of the heat from light—long step toward the scientist's dream of "cold light"—has been achieved by a device recently tested and approved by the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., here for the Society of Visual Education.

The device is an actinic ray filter for motion picture projectors, and by its use it is possible to stop a highly inflammable film and project "still" pictures without setting fire to the film.

FLIERS HAVE A THRILLING EXPERIENCE

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., July 2.—The crew of the naval seaplane, E. O. 5905, reached the Hampton Roads Air Station today from Anacostia after a thrilling experience drift of Piney Point, Maryland, for seven hours Sunday night. The plane, enroute from Washington to Norfolk, encountered engine trouble and made a forced landing ten miles off shore. In making the landing the pontoons were carried away, and the plane drifted until midnight, when it reached shore.

Brains and Personality Gain Fame Nowadays Says Star

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, July 3.—"The reason so many girls fail in the movies is because they think of the screen as a beauty market instead of a workshop," says Mae Marsh, film star.

"So many girls tell me of their stage ambitions, and always feel their claim to success is that they have what their friends call a 'movie face,'" she goes on.

"They never tell you how hard they can work, or how good their health is, or how much study or preparation they are willing to give. They don't realize that it is much easier to create the impression of beauty than it is to have personality or brains."

"Almost any girl who has ordinarily good features and an average figure, who is able to go to a good dressmaker and hairdresser, can learn to improve her appearance enough so she can be called a beauty by the average uncritical person."

"But it is the hardest thing in the world to find that combination of charm, personality, looks and brains, which is really what counts."

"Beauty," she says, "sometimes becomes a liability."

"It makes for limitations," she explains. "The beautiful woman frequently doesn't want to be shown as anything but beautiful. Often the public doesn't want to see her in any character role. Sooner or later she is in an artistic rut and people tire of her lack of variety."

"You know you don't care for a woman just because she is beautiful. You have to hold you by other qualities of mind and heart. The same thing holds true on the stage."

"I could name, and probably you could too, a dozen well-known actresses who are not even pretty, but you don't think about it because they have so many other qualities you admire."

"I don't mean beauty is not desirable. It is an asset and, in an actable, it is an asset and, in an actable, it is an asset and, in an actable, it is an asset."

CHICAGO LOOKS ON PROHIBITION AS BIG JOKE

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

CHICAGO, July 2.—Prohibition, at least as far as Chicago is concerned, will continue to be a joke as long as the "sacramental wine" shops are permitted to operate unhampered.

Permitting these "dummys" are nothing more or less than saloons of the low order.

Posing as distributing stations for liquors demanded by certain religious bodies for their rites, these places are far removed from any religious motive. They are bootlegging shops and make smart pretense of being anything else.

These "sacramental wine" shops outnumber the synagogues, twenty to one so it is necessary to sidestep the law in some other manner. This is easily accomplished by organizing "congregations." The man or syndicate in men desiring to open a "sacramental wine" shop, borrows a city directory picks out a hundred names at random, has them copied, chooses a "rabbi," and opens for business.

The "congregation" does not need a synagogue. It can represent that it meets at some home of a member or at some hall. The list of "congregation" and its "rabbi" is presented to the prohibition office, which must grant the permit for a distributing point.

That particular "religious" body. After that everything is easy. No patron of the place is ever required to show a government permit to purchase any kind of liquor. The city is honeycombed with these "sacramental wine" shops, all operated by bootleggers, and explain why prohibition in Chicago is effectually blocked by the "religious" clause in the Volstead Act.

BAN MILITARIST, EXALT PACIFIST

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 2.—The first prize of the $100,000 American Peace award, offered by Edward Bok, former editor, for the best practical plan for the co-operation of the United States with other nations for the attainment and preservation of world peace, was made today, within a day of the award had been announced.

The peace plan came from the International No-More-War Demonstration of New York, and was as follows:

"First: That immediate steps be taken to outlaw war by making it illegal to prepare for, declare or carry on war."

"Second: That an agreement be reached with other nations that war for any reason be declared a crime, as well as the use of armed force against subject peoples and in time of revolution."

"Third: That in the event the United States Congress or the United States body of any foreign country has been deprived of the power of waging war, or in the event war has been declared a crime, peoples be organized in groups to refuse to support war, if funds be appropriated for war declared, despite the illegality of such acts."

It was stated by the organization that up to the present the militarist has been in the saddle, and pacifist protests against war have been made in legal Reserve the situation, outlaw the militarist, the pacifist cause become legal, and hatred between nations engendered by the war-shower and the shrewdness, will be relegated to the graveyard of a monstrous past."

The International No-More-War demonstration represents the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the Women's Peace Society and the Women's Peace Union, absolutist pacifist organizations.

The Rock prize will be awarded in two parts: $50,000 to be paid for the idea itself and the rest when the practicability of the idea has been proved. Any individual American or any American organization may enter the contest.

MAE MARSH

BUCHAREST IS GROWING FAST AND IS HAPPY

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 2.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of former President Wilson, today entered upon a business career. She associated herself with the Biow Company, a national advertising agency and sold a large contract during the day.

Miss Wilson, who prepared herself for the advertising business by twelve months of study, will be engaged in a selling and consulting capacity.

BUCHAREST, July 2.—Bucharest is growing faster than any city in Europe. It is spreading out in all directions and the neighboring plains in an effort to house its population of a million, which is still growing.

In 1913 the capital's population was only 332,000 which included 35,000 Austrians and Hungarians and 45,000 Jews.

Bucharest is the joy city of Europe. Love and laughter song and wine, dancing and card-playing are as dear to the Rumanian heart as to the gayest spirits in Bohemia.

The Rumanian eats five times a day, and is ready for another repast at midnight. He dislikes going to bed. He loves his wine-jug and his cards. And he would die without his rum-coffee and his gossip.

The latest scandal of the town, "The Cattle Victories," Bucharest's Fifth Avenue, is studded with pretty women in the latest Persian gowns and jewels. Smart looking army officers in high patent-leather boots and blue and gold uniforms stride along the main boulevard smiling at the Rumanian's lovely remembrance.

Among these dashing Don Juans and Lo-harios one sees motley groups of gypsy men and women with their numerous progeny some of the children caught on a stretch of clothing. For this is the land of Rumania, of the race from which the gypsy fortune-tellers and vagabonds of the United States believe that beauty unadorned is adorned the most.

Rumanian women, who admittedly are the most attractive and fascinating in the Balkans, owe their sparkling beauty to their strain of gypsy or Greek blood, their languorous eyes and their olive complexions. They are buoyant and vivacious, romantic and pleasure-loving.

Both sexes in Rumania use perfume, rouge and cosmetics and profusion. The cosmetic business is one of the most profitable in Rumania. The Rumanian men are tall, handsome and dark, but are inclined to be effeminate. They wear form-fitting jackets, waistbands and affect monocles and sprats. This, of course, does not apply to the peasantry, who are a sturdy, homely, energetic lot, and constitute the backbone of the country and its chief hope for the future.

Although Bucharest prides itself on being the Paris of the Balkans, and French is spoken more than any other foreign tongue, there is a great desire on the part of the educated classes to learn English. American tutors are much in demand.

There are at present three newspapers printed in French, which is the court and society language, but it probably will not be long before a daily paper published in English will be established. Queen Marie, who is an accomplished writer, has published all her books in English, and that is the language of the royal family, although both the king and queen command facile use of half a dozen other tongues.

ELEVEN HURT IN PORCH FALL

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Mass., July 2.—Eleven persons were hurt, some seriously today when a second-story porch on a three-story dwelling gave way under the weight of persons who had crowded upon it to watch a road-roller that had gotten out of control and run away. One of the injured persons may die.

LAFOLLETTE IS WORKING HARD FOR JOHNSON

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Magnus Johnson, the Farmer-Labor candidate for Senator from Minnesota to succeed the late Knute Nelson, will be needed in the Senate, according to Senator LaFollette, (Republican, Wisconsin), to help put over radical legislation aimed at "the interests."

In the following statement published in Labor, the organ of the Railway Brotherhoods, Senator LaFollette fires his first gun in the Minnesota campaign.

"If Preus were elected it might throw the control of the United States Senate completely into the hands of the reactionaries who serve private monopoly and thus make remedial legislation impossible."

"This is not a party matter. It is a fundamental issue. It is a contest between government by private monopoly, represented by Preus, and government by the people, represented by Johnson. Johnson belongs to the people. Preus belongs to the special interests."

The Progressives in the next Congress propose to repeal the Cummins-Each railroad law and reduce the ruinous existing freight rates; to reduce the burden of taxation on the common people—the consumers.

exact and enforce absolute publicity of all income tax returns and stop dishonest tax dodging by trusts and millionaires to deal firmly with the monopolies in oil, coal, steel, lumber, sugar, meats and other necessities of life to call the gambling organizations to account and insure fair prices in grain and other farm products, to curb militarism and imperialism—the twin iniquities that overwhelm the people with taxation, begot foreign complications and inevitably breed foreign wars, to mete out merited punishment to the profiteers and grafters.

"We are at a crisis in Congress where every vote counts vitally. Magnus Johnson—his vigorous personality, his integrity, his courage, his vote, his voice."

INDICT COLBERT FOR BIGAMOUS MARRIAGE

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., July 2.—Russell Colbert of Norfolk, Baltimore and Richmond, was indicted by a Hastings court grand jury today on a charge of bigamy. Colbert is alleged to have married Miss Esther D. D. of Richmond while another wife was living in Norfolk.

Investigation of the case was started when relatives of Colbert visited Richmond in search of him. He was employed in a local mercantile establishment before his alleged second marriage.

Colbert is alleged to have married Miss Blanche M. Farragut in Portsmouth, March 9, 1916, and Miss Lyon on November 28, 1922. Colbert was arrested in Baltimore some time ago and returned to this city. His case will be called tomorrow when it is expected the date of trial will be fixed.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF AUTO LICENSES

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., July 2.—Figures made public here today show that 192,709 motor vehicles were licensed in Virginia during the first half of the year which ended Saturday, as against 171,000 for the same period last year. The total number of vehicles is divided among the various classes and types as follows: touring automobiles 160,167; trucks 24,209; convertible cars, 2,700; motorcycles 1,400; dealer's licenses 3,250; trailers 175 and side cars 615.

SLIGHT NOISE WOULD DRIVE HER "MAD"

Woman Credits Paw Paw Tonic With Helping Her Back to Health From Highly Nervous Condition

"After using one bottle of PAW PAW TONIC I can say without exaggeration that I have added years to my life," writes Mrs. A. E. Williams, 332 S. Blakely Street, Dunmore, Pa.

"I was in a highly nervous condition due to an attack of Grip. I could scarcely do my household work. The least noise grated on my nerves and would drive me almost mad."

"Thanks to PAW PAW TONIC I am once more back to my old self and I enjoy my work, sleep and rest like a babe. I ask all sufferers to employ PAW PAW TONIC if they wish to enjoy life."

Is not such sincere gratefulness convincing evidence that Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic will do what is claimed for it? Proof, however, talks louder than claims. You can prove to yourself that it can bring the happiness of health to you.

Buy a $1 bottle of Paw Paw Tonic. Yours will be an odd case indeed, whether you suffer from stomach trouble, nervousness, insomnia, heartburn, indigestion or weakness, if it does not quickly benefit you.

If you have dizziness, spells there is probably a deficiency in the amount of blood being pumped to the brain. A few doses of Paw Paw in practically all such cases have strengthened the Heart Action, sending new, clean blood through the brain and body.

Buy it at any first-class drug store. Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Co., Scranton, Pa.

$100,000 Prize Offered by Bok For Peace Plan

Philadelphia Announces Award for Project to Prevent Wars—Open to All Americans.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Creation by Edward Bok, of Philadelphia, of an award of $100,000, to be called the American Peace Award and to be given to the American individual or organization presenting the best practical plan by which the United States may co-operate with other nations for the achievement and preservation of world peace, was announced today by the policy committee, organized to administer the award.

The conditions are under formulation, but competition will be open to every American. Plans will be received until the middle of November. The personnel of the jury of award will be announced before September 1.

Mr. Bok's purpose, it was explained, was to give all Americans an opportunity to express themselves "upon a problem for which we have not been able to find the answer through political avenues or through the efforts of interested special groups."

It was hoped to obtain a workable plan that would be acceptable to all or most of the various groups, "which, while differing as to the best method of international co-operation, agree in the desire to find some way by which the United States can do its share in preventing war and establishing good will among nations."

The award is to be paid in two parts, $50,000 to the author of the plan as soon as it has been chosen by the jury of award, and the remainder when the practicability has been determined—when it has passed the United States Senate or when the jury shall decide that an adequate degree of popular support has been shown for it.

National organizations of every kind have been invited to co-operate in the project and the co-operative council for the American peace award is being formed, consisting of a delegate appointed or elected by each organization.

Miss Esther Everett Lape is head of the policy committee, with the following associates: John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain, Federal Judge Learned Hand; William L. Miller, former governor of New York; Melvin E. Stone, co-sponsor of the Associated Press; Henry L. Sumner, vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Mrs. Ogden Reid, Mrs. Frank D. Roosevelt and Frank A. Vanderlip, Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr. is treasurer.

Mr. Bok, who was born in the Netherlands, has been active in public service since his retirement from professional life four years ago.

—Mrs. E. T. Ebes and daughter, Miss Theodore, left last night for a two weeks' visit to Atlantic City and Washington.

INVENTIVE GENIUS MAKES CALOMEL DELIGHTFUL

Most Valuable of Drugs, Now Purified and Refined From Its Nausea and Danger—"Calotabs" the Name.

The medicinal virtues of calomel are in no way connected with its nauseating and dangerous qualities, as is proven by the fact that the perfected calomel tablet, called Calotabs, is free from objectionable effects yet retains of all the liver-cleansing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel. For biliousness, constipation and indigestion, and wherever calomel was essential, the new de-nauseated calomel tablet is a practically perfect remedy.

To insure public confidence in their discovery the manufacturers have authorized druggists everywhere to refund the price if the customer is not "perfectly delighted" with Calotabs. Sold only in trade-marked packages. Prices ten cents and thirty-five cents. One tablet at bedtime, with a swallow of water, that's all. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. You wake up in the morning with a clean liver, feeling fine, and a hearty appetite. Eat what you please—no danger—adv.

Tips Off Police

Ruth Norman, 18-year-old movie extra, who recently arrived in Hollywood from Chicago, has made a statement to Los Angeles police, they announce, which resulted in the arrest of a film director, an actor and a former detective in an alleged swindle plot. Wealthy business men were to have been the victims, according to her statement, officials say.

Artificial Lumber Gives Promise Of Structural Utility

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Experiments in the making of "artificial" lumber are arousing increasing interest among government officials and leaders in the lumber industry.

Although none of the product has been marketed, officials of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association declare that tests already made of a synthetic composition produced by Minnesota lumber interests show it possesses many qualities making it available for structural purposes.

The experiments are based on something the same principle as that employed in the manufacture of paper from wood pulp. In the process not only the trunks and branches of young trees, but the leaves and smaller parts as well are ground up and mixed with other substances, virtually eliminating waste. The resulting compound is capable of being moulded into sizes and shapes of almost any description needed in building.

Officials of the Lumber Manufacturers' Association declare that if a practical method of this sort can be perfected, the result may be revolutionary in the entire lumber industry. Aside from utilizing the present great waste in converting trees into usable lumber, they say, it presents a solution to the manufacturer's problem of finding sufficient material in the country's rapidly diminishing lumber resources.

From the time the standing tree is turned by the sawmill into planks and boards and applied in construction, from 60 to 65 per cent has been wasted. This includes stumps, chips, bark and branches, plank and log trimmings and a huge amount of sawdust. The new method will use all of this.

Already $750,000 have been spent in experimental work in this direction by the Weyerhaeuser lumber interests in Minnesota. Their experiments are said to have been undertaken largely because one of the chief obstacles encountered by lumber manufacturers is the competition of paper manufacturers, who can use young trees unsuitable for lumber purposes. This is especially important in the Lake states, where pulp mills so compete with sawmills as to make it practically certain that very little saw timber will be grown commercially under present conditions. Timber owners find that in from 15 to 20 years they can grow crops of spruce that will be suitable for the pulp and paper mills, whereas it would take from 50 to 100 years to grow a crop that would meet the requirements of the lumberman.

According to the manufacturers' association, tests have shown the artificial lumber to have a satisfactory tensile strength and to be capable of being sawed, planed and nailed, so that the products lack only the charm of the grain effects of natural wood. Officials of the forestry service, while declaring they had not yet been assured the strength of the artificial boards equals that of the natural ones, believe they would be useful for many purposes. One of their strong points, it is said at the forestry service, is their waterproof qualities and insulation against heat and cold.

Wholesale Trade Shows Increase Over Year Ago

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Wholesale trade was 5 per cent greater in May than in April and 14 per cent greater than in May a year ago, according to figures announced by the Federal Reserve Board last night.

Compared with April, sales in all lines except dry goods, clothing, diamonds, stationery and machine tools, which were distributed in smaller volume, increased during the month. The greatest increases were in the sales of meat, jewelry and shoes.

While the increases were due in part to higher wholesale prices than last year, the actual volume of trade was greater.

Al Smith's Visit To New York Has Political Significance

NEW YORK, July 3.—The two-day visit to this city which Governor Smith began yesterday when he and his family arrived by yacht from Albany is likely to prove, in the light of future political events, among the most important of his public career. Meetings and conferences, many of them presumed to have a potential relationship to the Governor's Presidential ambitions, have been arranged. How many the public will be informed about remains to be seen.

Acquaintances who talk with the Governor casually get the impression that he is not over-concerned about what treatment the next Democratic National Convention will accord to him. They think he is content to roam along with the political tide, without attempting to steer a course that might land him in the White House.

Some Secret Conferences.

Some Democratic leaders who enjoy Mr. Smith's confidence, however, realize that the Governor intends to chart his own course, intending to overlook no opportunity to advance his already man-size standing as a candidate. They regard as particularly significant his extended visit to New York during this heated period of the summer.

The Governor's lists of organizations have not been made public, and it is doubtful if they will. Those that have an out and out political significance will not be kept a secret. But business conferences at which, no doubt, politics will be touched upon, and private dinner parties at which it is expected the Governor may meet men who would be helpful to him will hardly be brought to the attention of newspaper readers by Mr. Smith's campaign directors.

The Governor's Fourth of July oration in Tammany Hall Wednesday is being awaited with increasing interest by the handlers of rival aspirants for the Democratic Presidential nomination. They are wondering whether he will reply to the storm of dry criticism that followed his approval of the Mulligan-Gage Prohibition Enforcement Law and his counter-attack on William J. Bryan.

More About Volsteadism.

It is known that in the near future the Governor intends to lighten the nation's army of prohibitionists by further expiating on the need for modification of the Volstead act and adoption of a common-sense definition of intoxicating liquor. Tammany's independence day celebration officers a suitable setting for such a pronouncement.

Mr. Smith has followed the maneuvers of the Anti-Saloon League's "war council" at Westerville, O., and his friends say, maintains an argument advanced there overcame the logic of his memorandum of Volsteadism written to accompany his approval of the law enforcement repealer.

The Governor, it was explained, is inclined to ignore the attacks of the League's "war council" but may, should they persist, reply in the most vigorous language he can command. He is particularly incensed at the charge of William H. Anderson, the League's New York State boss, that the attempt at repealing the Democratic National Convention to New York City is a scheme of the wets and the "multitudinists" conspiring with Tammany Hall for his nomination to the presidency.

Look for Modification.

Democratic leaders who surround the Governor are convinced the next Congress will have to modify the Volstead act, if only to straighten out the tangle into which the country's international relations have been worked over exclusion of liquor from foreign vessels entering American ports. Such action, they contend, would vindicate Mr. Smith's contention that Volsteadism in its present form is intolerable.

During his stay in the city Governor Smith will make his headquarters at the Hotel Baltimore. He plans, however, to spend as much of time as possible with his aged mother in the summer home he has provided for her at Sea Gate, Coney Island.

Good Morning Judge!

Another Newton street fracas was aired in the police court this morning. John Fitzgerald and Harvey Morton and Katherine Smith, all colored, were arraigned for engaging in a fight, in which brick bats played a prominent part. The two men were assessed $10 dollars and costs each and the warrant against the negroess was dismissed. John and Harvey are alleged to have become engaged in a scrap over an alleged money debt. They were separated but resumed the fracas in front of Katherine Smith's house. The woman alleges that bricks were hurled toward her baby and she took a hand. Fitzgerald claims she cut him on the arm with a knife.

The case of Annie Belle Moore, colored, charged with stealing $100 worth of wearing apparel, was continued until Thursday. Her sister, Ethel, is already in jail in connection with the crime.

George Mundy drew a fine of six dollars and costs for using insulting language to Mrs. W. R. Shackelford. W. W. Williford was fined $101 and costs for operating his machine while intoxicated. Williford noted an appeal and his bond was set at $150. His license automatically expires.

Fines of $10 and costs were imposed on the following for violating the parking ordinance: C. H. Harper, J. H. Merricks, Robert Covington, C. H. Harrell and James Osborne.

L. C. Macon, not having proper lights, dismissed.

Robert Claiborne, colored, improper lights, $10 and costs.

I. C. Harrison, J. C. Womack and C. R. Robertson, violating traffic law, dismissed with payment of costs, which was $1.50.

The case of James Elliott, of Patrick county, charged with peddling without a license, was set for Saturday. Elliott claimed the produce belonged to his brother and a warrant was ordered filled out against the brother, whose name was given as Doc Elliott.

Floyd Dodson, colored, charged by Willie Watson with taking $200 in currency out of his pocket, was dismissed. There was practically no evidence against Dodson. Watson claimed he took it from his pocket while he slept.

Fred McQueen, charged with creating a disturbance, was not present.

Firemen Make Good Showing With Life Net

The city call firemen held a meeting at the Patton Street fire station last night for the purpose of signing applications for reelection. All of the thirteen men applied. Fire Chief Mitchell put the men through a life saving drill during the evening in order to accustom the men to the new life saving net which has been placed on the Hayes truck. The fire chief reported that in 20 seconds the firemen had the net removed from its fastenings, in the station house, carried into the alley, opened it and a fireman had leaped from the top of the fire station within it.

The call men who are applying for reelection are W. I. Cole (captain) W. C. Clayton, J. E. Boswell, R. J. Mustain, J. R. Floyd, J. E. Mustain, E. V. Smith, C. R. Dodson, W. H. Richardson, C. M. Duke, Luther Allen, F. E. Ferguson and W. I. Ashworth.

Treasury Reports Year's Surplus of Receipts Over Expenditures Is $309,657,460.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—In announcing today the financial condition of the government at the close of the fiscal year last midnight the Treasury Department placed the total gross debt of the United States at $22,347,707,365.36, a reduction of $613,674,342.95 since June 30, 1922.

The complete figures were presented on the basis of the daily Treasury statements. Total ordinary receipts for the year amounted to $4,007,135,490.56, while expenditures chargeable against ordinary receipts totaled $3,697,478,020.26. This shows a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $309,657,460.30, which is substantially the same as the $310,000,000 estimate made yesterday by the Budget Bureau.

"Of the total expenditures," the department stated, $402,850,491.10 were on account of the sinking fund and other debt retirements chargeable against ordinary receipts. This means that the public debt has been reduced during the year by $402,850,491.10 out of the ordinary budget and a further reduction of $210,823,831.35 has been accomplished out of the surplus, making the total debt reduction for the year $613,674,342.95.

"The balance in the general fund of the Treasury at the end of the year stands at $370,939,121.08, as compared with $272,195,512.63 on June 30, 1922, an increase of $98,743,608.45.

"Customs receipts during the year were much larger than for any previous year in the history of the government, aggregating $561,928,866.66 as compared with $356,443,387.10 during the fiscal year 1922, the previous high record. Income and profits tax receipts also exceeded expectations, aggregating $1,675,607,428.22 as compared with the estimate of $1,500,000,000 submitted in the budget last December. Miscellaneous internal revenue receipts amounted to $945,865,332.61."

During the year just closed, the department pointed out, about $4,500,000,000 of the United States debt matured and was either retired or refunded.

A table of the results of these operations since April 30, 1921, shows a wiping out of the $4,069,000,000 in Victory notes, an increase of from zero to $4,104,000,000 in Treasury notes, a decrease of from $2,820,000,000 to $1,031,000,000 in Treasury certificates, a decrease of from $113,000,000 to $91,000,000 in War Savings securities, and an increase of from zero to $246,000,000 in Treasury Savings securities.

Treasury savings securities to the extent of $246,000,000 and Treasury notes maturing on quarterly tax payment dates between 1924 and 1927, inclusive, have been issued while other notes and securities were being retired. During the period between April 30, 1921, and last midnight the gross public debt was reduced about $1,550,000,000, the department said.

Says Nerve Exhaustion Causes Airplane Falls

LONDON, July 3.—Fear is never responsible for airplane accidents, in the opinion of Major H. Greame Anderson, consulting surgeon of the British Royal Air Force. From the confessions of pupils and his own experiences, Dr. Anderson said, he found that fear never asserted itself in the first few flights because the pupils were too occupied.

The chief causes of accidents to pilots, he explained, were due to nerve exhaustion, which might develop within even an hour after the beginning of a flight. The pilot then found himself unable to use his mental faculties and frequently came to grief on landing through inability to judge his speed and nearness to the ground.

Dr. Anderson said that since the British medical service reduced the first practice flights from an hour to ten minutes, accidents from exhaustion had been considerably lessened. They also insisted upon young pilots having a good meal before flying, even at three or four in the morning.

People who fly in commercial machines, the British expert advised, should choose the back seat as being considerably safer than the front, where there is danger of being crushed by the engine in case of trouble. He also suggested that some method should be devised whereby in case of fire the pilot could liberate the cabin, to which a parachute of sufficient strength should be attached to carry it and the passengers safely to earth.

Turks Holding Up American Tourist Travel In Europe

(By The Associated Press)
 CONSTANTINOPLE, July 2.—Many American travelers, both business men and tourists, are being held up through a government order issued today providing that no foreigners except British, French and Italians may leave the country without permission from the authorities at Angora. This action follows the arbitrary proceedings of last week when the entry of foreigners without Angora's approval was prohibited.

Real Admiral Mark L. Bristol, American high commissioner, had appealed against the order. It is understood the Turkish ruling was actuated by their desire to control Serbian and Rumanian entries. The exception of the new order in favor of allied nationals is due to the fact that the allies have armed forces here and on the frontier and have notified the Angora government they would not obey such regulations.

Mrs. Harding Says Her Husband Will Be a Candidate

BY GRAFFON WILCOX
 (By Chicago Tribune Service)
 ON BOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S TRAIN, July 2.—President Harding according to Mrs. Harding, is going to be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. Harding has told her friends so. If there ever was any doubt about the president's intention to be a candidate for a second term, that probably settled it.

Mrs. Harding, after a trip through the south, asserts that she never felt better in her life, and certainly she has demonstrated extraordinary vitality on this tour. She shakes hands with thousands of persons, never fails to greet the crowds, and the back platform and rides hundreds of miles over dusty roads without protest.

Presidents of the United States in the past fought their political campaigns without having their wives by their sides. But today all is changed. Women are voters now and an important political factor in the nation, and a president's wife may have an enormous influence on the political fortunes of her husband. There can be no doubt that Mrs. Harding made a favorable impression on the thousands who turned out to see her on this trip. Perhaps as many people came to see Mrs. Harding as to see the president.

Mrs. Cleveland was an admired and much acclaimed White House woman in her day, but comparatively few people ever met her personally. Cleveland himself did not like to travel.

Mrs. McKinley was an invalid and seldom if ever accompanied her husband.

Mr. Taft was the greatest of all presidential travelers, but his wife did not follow him to any extent and was seldom in the limelight.

Mrs. Roosevelt was most conservative and took no active interest in public affairs, devoting her time largely to her husband, children and a comparatively small group of friends.

Mrs. Wilson had no love for campaign trips, but she did accompany her husband on his historic League of Nations crusade across the country. The acclaim of the crowds made no appeal to her and she shrank from the publicity. Her real purpose in making the trip was to care for Mr. Wilson's health.

Mrs. Harding has met with different conditions. In the first place she frankly likes to meet people and she likes politics. She was bred in the political atmosphere of Ohio, where politics is a part of life.

With changed conditions the duties of the first woman of the land have assumed a new importance, a new distinction, and greater responsibilities.

Mrs. Harding has become an important political as well as social factor in the life of the nation. From the beginning she has been busy and with grace faced the limelight.

In this campaign—for it is a campaign—Mrs. Harding has proved an efficient helpmate. The president calls her his "right hand man." Early in the morning, long before most of the president's staff have wakened out of their berths, Mrs. Harding is on the back platform smiling and waving at the workers in the railroad yards and the hundreds of children that gather at every station along the route.

Mrs. Harding is always perfectly groomed. She has a great assortment of hats and dresses for the trip, and no doubt thousands of women come to the meetings and the stations to see what the president's wife wears.

There are always more women than men at the meetings and the stations to see what the president's wife wears.

Mrs. Harding realizes that in this day a woman may make or break her husband in politics. Despite her severe illness of last winter surrounded by physicians and nurses, she has displayed greater physical vitality on this trip than the president himself.

Mrs. Harding is a most human person. She runs literally dozens of pairs of gloves shaking hands. She genuinely likes to meet people and she has a warm grasp of the hand and a pleasant word of greeting for everybody.

She is equally at home with the society matron and the woman who bakes her own biscuits. In fact Mrs. Harding has confided to many women whom she met along this trip the secret of making good corn cake or "Johnny bread" for her husband's breakfast.

The most interesting of the president's experiences in the park occurred at Yellowstone Lake Camp en route to the Yellowstone Grand Canyon where two black bears were freed by campers who knew the president's party would soon be

"Spare Him!"—"Kill Him!"—Big Daughters of Two Men

Mabel, 17, insisted upon strict justice.

Cecelia, 16, appealed to a Chicago judge to spare her father—

BY GEORGE BRITT
 NEA Service Writer

CHICAGO, July 3.—Enigmatic woman again offers Science the riddle of the age.

With tragic contract, one stayed the hand of death, the other let it fall.

As a result, two fathers today are paying the price the law exacts for the drunken, heartless murders of their wives.

Their penalties in each case were determined by pleas of their own daughters who had witnessed the slayings. The parallel cases would offer a fine chance for philosophers to generalize on the influence of sentiment upon cold justice, except for one thing.

One Spared, Other Dies

Which is the exact antithesis in the attitude of the two daughters?

Ignatius Fuchs is just getting adjusted to the penitentiary where he is along. The president insisted upon stopping when the bars were shifted. Park rangers coaxed them to the tree and the president tried to feed them. Mack was the largest and dashed madly into the woods as soon as the president approached him. The president followed calling "Come Mack, come Mack." Finally Mack apparently conscious of less majesty consented to eat sweetened rolls from the president's hand. Later when the smaller bear came down he took a liking to the president and ate from his hand with apparent great enjoyment. Frequently he would leap for a tree but the president succeeded in coaxing him down. It was a great hour for the movie men. Other hawks gathered in the edge of the woods to watch the performance. At the process on pulled away one of the president's party exclaimed "the president has tamed his bear and it will eat from his hand. Now let him tackle the Republican elephant."

GOING

Hey little girl, with the ribbon hair! Her little girl with the curls just so!

What have you done with the cottony cat?

What have you done with the ball to throw?

What have you done with yesterday?

What have you done with the climbing cat?

What have you done with the games to play?

And the faces, dead, which we used to run?

Why do you leave me out here alone Here with the trees and butterflies? Have you a notion that you are grown?

Why that look in your "Honey" eyes? Here is the net, and the hat and ball. Here are the trees and the golden sun!

Here are the streams, and the roads and all! The trees you loved when the games were done.

Why have you gone away from all The laughing games that you loved to play?

The cottony cat, and the bouncing ball. And the faces, and laughter of yesterday!

Have you a notion that you are grown?

Grown up tall, and a lady, quite? Is that the reason I'm all alone? And calling you in the fading light. Dear, do you want to put childhood Doing your ringlets up in a knot. Run from the blossoms and fields and sky. And all the romps in the meadow lot.

Rush away with your hands full out To escape the tasks that the grown-up do?

Where is the baby with lips apart? Here is the daddy who loves you true.

Don't toss childhood aside that way. Don't throw gladness away from you.

sentenced to spend the remainder of his life. The shadow of the gallows was dark across his path when his daughter, Cecelia, 16, appealed to a Chicago judge to spare him.

And William Donovan, an Indiana grave, has been paying his penalty for a year, following his execution. Friends at work to obtain clemency from Governor McCray, were blocked when his daughter, Mabel, 17, wrote a letter insisting upon strict justice.

"The penalty for murder is death or imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or for not less than 14 years," explained Judge George Kersten here after Prosecutor Louis F. O'Connell had presented the case against Fuchs.

State Waives Right

"Not death," begged Cecelia. "He's all we have. He's not a bad man at heart. It was just that moonshine."

She clung to her father, and the little turned appealingly toward the judge.

John, 11, and Anton, 11. She refused to testify unless the state waived the death penalty. And she won.

Then Judge Kersten adjourned to his chambers a moment, reaching for his handkerchief. He is the dean of criminal court judges in Chicago, and sentencing murderers is commonplace. But this case was different.

Not so with the Spartan daughter, Mabel Donovan.

"I do not want the sentence changed," Mabel wrote to Governor McCray. "My father has always been an overbearing man and had no love for himself, not even his children, and if he could ever get out, he would not be too good to kill us."

Here the parallel breaks down. Let those make the most of it who would generalize about blind justice—the contradictory justice of a woman's heart.

AUTO EXCURSION BY FARMERS OF HENRY COUNTY

MARTINSVILLE, June 30.—The farmers of Henry county are going on an extensive automobile excursion, leaving Martinsville on Monday, July 16, and returning on Saturday, July 21. Harpers Ferry will be the farthest point to be reached. This trip has been thoroughly planned and special arrangements have been made with the hotels along the route for reduced rates so as not to make it too expensive. The party will stop the first night at Roanoke and will proceed from there through the Valley of Virginia. They will be entertained at the Natural Bridge by the Farmers' Union of Rockbridge county, and at Staunton by the farmers of Augusta county. Farmers of Pittsylvania county are extended a cordial invitation to accompany the party and County Agent T. J. Thompson will be glad to give any desired information.

There have been some light local rains in different sections of the county, but owing to the hot, windy days they did not help to any extent growing crops, which are badly in need of a good wetting rain. The Tobacco crop planted is only about 65 per cent of that planted in 1922. A small wheat crop was seeded but is of good variety.

The prohibition officers are still on the alert watching the bootleggers. Two Ford cars and 60 gallons of corn whiskey were captured this week.

It is understood Sheriff H. L. Turner will be opposed for reelection by J. M. Davis, and Commissioner of J. W. Stanley. There are the only county officials so far that have developed any opposition.

Mrs. G. M. Bailey entertained at nine tables of bridge Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. W. Carter, Jr.

John Redd, Jr. of Big Island, spent Thursday here.

Mrs. Bell Bell of Rocky Mount, was a visitor here and was in Richmond Thursday and will visit with her sister, Mrs. Stern, who is here.

Ed English spent the week with his parents.

Buford Attacks "Dry" Amendment In First Session

(By The Associated Press)
 NATURAL BRIDGE, Va., July 2.—An address by E. P. Buford, of Law-renceville, president of the Virginia Bar Association, in which he attacked the Eighteenth Amendment to the constitution as legislation which should have no place in the organic law of the land and deplored the growing tendency toward centralization of governmental functions in the federal power featured the opening session here today of the state association. At the conclusion of the address, which was applauded frequently, the association offered a rising vote of thanks.

At the afternoon session reports of committees were made, only that on uniform state legislation meeting with rejection at the hands of the association. Instead of adopting the report as offered by Eugene C. Massie, of Richmond, a resolution was adopted favoring such legislation as has been approved by the national committee on uniform law but disapproving the recommendation that the general assembly establish a land court to give the "Torrens Land Registration Act" a chance. This proposal met with heated discussion. Practically the entire bar opposing Mr. Massie's recommendation on the grounds that there is no need in the state for any other court of limited jurisdiction and that judges of courts now established should be better paid rather than create officers for more judges.

Election of officers and an address by Joseph A. Kelly, of Bristol, president of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, will feature the morning session tomorrow. The sessions are being held at Natural Bridge Hotel.

"In view of the wreckage of other governments which we see on every hand—in view of the destructive tendencies which may ensue on our own part in view of the pathetic page of human misery which history records when government is perverted from its legitimate purpose, I wish to see the members of my profession exert their splendid talents in the dissemination of knowledge and the dangers with which our institutions are threatened."

"Popular governments must themselves be protected against their own tendencies to self destruction," said Mr. Kelly, adding that the "superficial thinker is apt to be lulled into false security by a too frequent use of the word democracy and kindred terms, which ordinarily convey the impression that his liberties still are safe."

"History does not record and probably will never record any instance in which human liberty has survived the experiment of extending governmental activities which affect the individual in his personal and private rights and area."

"In carrying out the provisions of the founders of the constitution that such powers not expressly delegated to the federal government were reserved to the States, and quoting Jefferson's statement that the purpose of the founders was to create and preserve 'the general government in its whole constitutional vigor as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad,'" Mr. Buford said.

When I look at a map of the United States and am impressed with our national greatness and our power to resist hostile aggression by any nation. But when I think of the multitudes who inhabit our vast domain, and of these multitudes governed directly by centralized power emanating from the national capital, I wonder if oriental despotism could have wished for a fairer field."

Remarking that the last seven amendments mark the turning point of constitutional history, Mr. Buford entered into a discussion of the 18th amendment as a summary police regulation which should have no place in the organic law. It does not conform to the legal conception of a constitutional amendment. It is mere legislation, disguised as a constitutional amendment, with the result that it has been made irreparable by the ordinary legislative process. The founders of the government never intended that arbitrary governmental powers might be exerted under authority conferred to propose and ratify amendments. They never intended to create a power by which irreparable legislation might be enacted—for that is to destroy freedom."

"Mr. Buford said that if there are no limits to the powers which may be exercised under the constitution, there is nothing to prevent Congress passing a bill of attainder or other despotic governmental acts."

"No government may with safety transcend the scope of its legitimate authority. The 18th amendment has sown the seed of discord, which is smoldering throughout the country and other States. Mr. Buford recalled his prediction of four years ago that, if this amendment is passed, I should fear that American nationalism would wither under the baleful effects of the exasperating regulations to which the American citizens would be subjected."

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, Pimples, Blackheads, Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

Hair Often Ruined by Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

FIRST BAPTIST WINS FROM LEE STREET

First Baptist gained a decision over Lee Street yesterday in a game marked by fast fielding and air tight pitching on both sides. Lee Street out-hit the Baptists two to one, but Graves kept their bingles scattered. A rally in the seventh by the Lee Streeters was stopped after two runs had been pushed across the plate.

SALARY TROUBLE CAUSE OF NO-HIT PITCHER'S SLUMP

CHICAGO, July 2.—One year ago the most talked about young ball player in the country today under suspension for indifferent work, almost forgotten by fandom. That is the status of Pitcher Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox.

In the spring of last year Robertson became the overnight sensation of the American League by pitching a no-hit-no-run game, in which not a batsman reached first base. It stands as one of the greatest twisting feats in the history of the game. The fact that it was made against the Detroit Tigers, one of the greatest slugging aggregations baseball has ever produced, makes it all the more remarkable.

The Chicago management hints that this great success rather spoiled Robertson's pitching. Possibly it did for a time, but at the close of last season he was again working effectively.

This year the management of the Chicago club sprang a sensation as great as Robertson's pitching feat by offering the no-hit twirler a raise of $100 for the season. It is questionable if it was made against the Detroit Tigers, one of the greatest slugging aggregations baseball has ever produced, makes it all the more remarkable.

Patriots Win the First Half From Herndon's Team

HIGH POINT, July 2.—Greensboro turned the locals here today 11 to 4 for their third straight and first-half honors in the Piedmont League pennant chase in a game that was seemingly one-sided without any attempt on High Point's part to even it up.

Purcell was hit hard all day through and should have been removed in the first according to the comments hurled from the grandstand and bleachers, which were packed with 2,000 fans, who were evidently not pleased with the game and outcome. High Point with Irby leading hit well at times, but could not overcome the early earned margin of the visitors. Jackson was relieved with two out in the fourth by Mickie O'Quinn, who mastered the situation.

The Patriots' tallies were scattered over the entire nine frames, two coming in the first, three in the third, one in the fifth, three in the sixth, and one each in the seventh and ninth. Cox, the lengthy Patriot, developed the ball over the fence with one on in the third, Conley duplicating in the sixth with two on, O'Quinn repeating in the seventh with the bases empty.

High Point's first score came in the third, with two more in the fifth, and the final marker, a four-base smash by Irby, in the seventh.

Although Purcell was hit hard from the beginning no other twirler even warmed up, to the expressed disapproval of the fans, who were also not overjoyed at the fielding of the inner works, when fast fielding would have retired the side on several occasions.

Cox starred for the winners with two two-ply swats and a homer, while "Red" Irby led the local hitting.

DURHAM, July 2.—

By hitting st. uler at will while Gibson was twirling superb ball Herb Murphy's Tobaccoists ran away with the locals here this afternoon 14 to 0.

In addition to allowing the Bulls only five scattered hits Gibson clouted the ball for a homer and a triple and was the outstanding player in the game on the offensive and defensive. The game was never in doubt, the Virginians holding Durham at their mercy throughout.

In the second frame the Danville club batted around. Trexler and Allison singled, advanced on Brittain's error; Regan out at first; Resco doubled scoring Trexler and Allison; Cochlin singled scoring Trexler; Gibson tripled scoring Cochlin, and scored himself on Stittler's wild pitch to the plate. Dorman popped out. Overton singled, stole second, and was caught on the attempt to steal third in the third inning three errors and a wild throw gave the visitors one more score. Another was added in the fourth on a single, an error and an infield out. In the seventh, six hits, one a circuit clout by Gibson with two on, and a base on balls scored six runs. The final score came in the eighth when Smith tripled and scored on Regan's single.

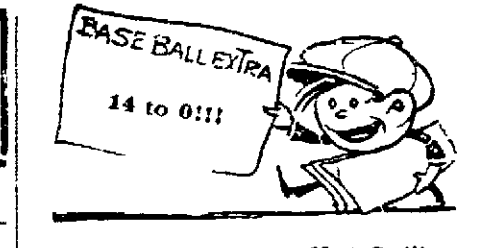

Stringfield and Regan contributed the fielding features. The speedy little Danville centerfielder, racing to the fence once and pulling down a sur hit. Henie crashed into left field fence in a futile chase for a long one and slightly injured his face.

finance situation, which ever it may be, might drop around and discuss it with the fellow, who "salted" away a ticket for the fight sometime ago.

Out on the Stokesland links local golfers are battling for club honors and the Spear cup. In the first round of the elimination matches yesterday afternoon eight were eliminated, and the four remaining pairs are heading down the grand total this afternoon.

For five years or more the sundry champions of the heavy-weight mat game have been called "yellow" because they would not meet Renato Gardini, the Italian honor-bearer, but last night "Strangler" Lewis put an end to all such comment by taking two of three falls from his Italian. The match was staged in Philadelphia, the first fall going to Lewis on a head-lock, the second to Cardinal on a scissors-hold and the final and deciding fall to Lewis on a body scissors.

Mrs. Moila Mallory dropped out of the running at Wimbledon before she reached Suzanne Lenglen and what would have been the biggest draw of the season. The American, American still represented thanks to "Little Bill" Johnston, who is ready for the semi-finals, due to his victory over Campbell, the Irish net star.

Rumors emanating from up around headquarters have it that "Cudge" Harris will start the morning game against the first-half champs on the Fourth, with Tomblby as the probably choice for the sound work in the afternoon performance. No doubt there will be some little crowd on hand to see how patriotic the Patriots will be on the Fourth.

Legion—Ro-Ki-Li Game Tomorrow at Stonewall Park

Danville people who have been feeling that life will be rather dull through 1923 since they have decided not to see the Shelby fight or the world series, are scheduled to change their minds following a careful perusal of the American Legion's announcement of the game to be staged tomorrow afternoon at Stonewall Park between the Legionnaires and the Ro-Ki-Lis. The Ro-Ki-Lis are an assortment of players selected from the local Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and shaken together like the freckle hand organs by conscientious crap shooters to be dumped on the playing field at Stonewall Park at 4:30 on the afternoon of the Fourth.

The promoters of the affair not only guarantee a good baseball game but with the sidelines and grandstand combined will offer more lighthearted fun than there are German marks to the American dollar.

The Legion will be represented by the following players:

Less Odell Harry Graves, "Preacher" Rustin, Gabe Robertson, "Preacher" Jones, M. L. Skaggs, Ned Newman, George Prillman, Harvey White and Ashby Rains.

The Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions club will contribute towards what they consider a winning aggregation is follows.

Rotary—Dave Graham, "heap big chief, Doc Hankins, Ran. Perkins, Rubeik Thompson, Fred Townes, Bill Moore, Fred Leggett and Oscar Ensey. Uncle Henry Watkins has been designated as bat boy. Mat Nelson as hot dog, peanuts and pop-corn vender, Jim Segar water boy; Gus Booth, chief coach, and Bill Parker, cheer leader.

Kiwanis—Jimmie Hamlin, organizer, Jimmie Bustard, Nelson Benton, Hawk Hawkins, Sam Kent, Henry Roadiger, Bryant ("Nuts") Heard, will entertain the sidelines with his comic opera stunts, while coaching, and Chauncey Eldridge will be the generalissimo of the ice cream vendors, Curtis Dodson, batboy.

Lions—Jesse Benton, foreman of the roundup, Thomas Gray, Brick Clarke, Shields Harves, Thomas Fox, Crispin Dickerson and Dan Dicker-son. Stationery Skadden will give information, but not stationary, from the coaching lines. The slogan of Dick Moss will be "Yes, We Have No Bananas" as he competes with the other vendors present, while Harry Wooding, Jr., will relieve him when he becomes tired jerking the caps off the pop bottles, and David Jones will attempt to annex the "Lions Share" of the bats as official batboy.

That there will be something as unusual out at Stonewall Park tomorrow afternoon as one, Barnum, of circus fame, ever dreamed of is not doubted.

BOTH FIGHTERS IN FAIR FROM A RING

(By The Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., July 2.—The twelve-round bout here tonight between Mickie Walker, of this city, welterweight champion of the world, and Cowboy Padgett, of Dolores, Colorado, came to a sudden end in the 11th round when both fighters tumbled out of the ring into the press box. Two of Padgett's ribs were broken and he was unable to continue.

Padgett had been knocked down for a count of nine in the 11th round and was fighting in an effort to gain ground. He backed Walker against the ropes, his weight causing the champion to fall through the ropes, Padgett with him.

The fight was slow in the early rounds, but was faster in the later rounds when Walker began to show his old time form.

Winston Defeats Raleigh 11 To 7

RALEIGH, July 2.—Timely hitting coupled with four doubles gave the Twins a victory over Raleigh here today 11 to 7.

Fuhrer, twirling for Winston, gave up 13 hits but worked well in the pinches, although errors by the Capitals in the first inning practically handed the game to the Twins.

Three errors and two hits in the first gave Winston four runs, two more being added in the third without a hit, and five in the ninth on clean hitting.

Hamby, with three safeties out of three trips to the plate, and Smith with three hits, two of which were for three bases, were the hitting stars of the game.

Experts Leaning Toward Willard In Firpo Battle

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 3.—With the Willard-Firpo contest at Jersey City only ten days off the Kansas fight is coming faster with the fans and the wagering on the outcome is leaning toward Willard more every day. When the match was first made Firpo was a pronounced favorite at the odds of the time, but he has right now two to one the best the Firpo admirers will offer, and it is likely that Willard will go into the ring close to even money.

It was a question of condition in the Willard followers. Many thought he would return here, but they now think he has surprised them, and those who have seen him in action at the Columbus Sporting Club at Yonkers say he is 50 per cent better than when he was training for Johnson.

A few opinions gathered from "those in the know" favor Willard to win. Here are some of them:

JACK SKELLY—Willard will outsmart Firpo, who is a year away from a match with Willard, Dempsey or Williams.

FLOYD JOHNSON—Willard has the experience on Firpo, and he will be a lot better than he was against me. I think he will stop Firpo in about eight rounds.

DAN CASSIDY—I bet on Willard against Johnson but think Firpo too young and strong for Jess. It will be a hard battle.

JOHN POLLOCK—Willard will take the first after Firpo punches himself out. Jess is a better man than most people think.

JIM CORPITT—It is a tough one to pick. I think it will be one of the best heavyweight battles we ever had, winner will beat Dempsey.

CHARLEY O'DAY—Firpo is a real fighter and will beat down Willard with his heavy punches. Johnson was only a plaything for Jess, but he is up against a tough ball in Firpo. Jess won't stand the pace.

TEX RICHARD—I was always with the young fellow, but Jess is a good general and no experience and can hit. Too hard to pick for me.

When your opponent's ball lies in the line of your "putt" it is regarded as stymie.

How many tournaments did Walter Hagen win during the spring play in the South?

Hagen won five consecutive medal play tournaments from 1914 to 1918, during the spring play in the South. Golfing records fail to reveal any series of performances that compares with the marvelous golf that Hagen had on display during the spring. He failed by one stroke of repeating in the British open.

Are Jock Hutchison and Walter Hagen home-born golfers?

Hutchison is not a home-bred, although he has spent many years in this country. Hagen made his start as a caddie around Rochester, N. Y.

MACLACHLAN ON PROTESTANTISM

(By The Associated Press)

LYNCHBURG, Va. July 2.—"Catholicism and Protestantism are both forms of Christian religion and Christians should dwell together in peace," said Dr. H. D. C. MacLachlan of Seventh Street Christian Church, Richmond, speaking on "Why I am a Protestant" before the Congress and Training Schools of the Disciples of Christ, Chesapeake Area, opening its sessions here today. The great battle of Protestantism is within its own borders, he said, adding that each must seek God for himself.

Reverend E. H. Melton, of Washington, Rev. Bruce L. Keener, of Lynchburg College, and Charles Darnie, of St. Louis, were other speakers of the day. Classes for the training school were held in the morning and were followed by lectures and devotional exercises.

The southwest piedmont district conference is being held at the same time.

Lighting the Way

Like a beacon in the Dark, the A. B. C. Torch of Verified Circulation shows the safe road of Sound Advertising Practice.

Today, all the investigating and reporting facilities of the Bureau are at the service of the advertiser, furnishing reports on practically all the worth-while publications of Canada and the United States.

In its eight years of diligent service to the Advertising and Publishing World, the A. B. C. has brought Circulation Buying from the darkness of Uncertainty to the light of Verified Circulation.

The Bureau has established the principle of Honesty in Circulation as the standard of practice in buying and selling advertising space.

Most advertisers today protect their appropriations by demanding A. B. C. reports and placing their campaign in the light of the valuable data they contain.

The Register and Bee

are members of the A. B. C. and would be pleased to submit a copy of the latest circulation report.

Demand A. B. C. Reports Before Buying Space.

It is taking one month and will cost $50,000 to raise and move this 25,000-ton schoolhouse a distance of 800 feet at Hammond, Ind. On the old site will be erected a million-dollar hotel and bank building. The moving contract stipulates that not one brick must be cracked, and to guarantee fulfillment, movers put up a $100,000 bond.

MR. EARWING, COUSIN OF COCK-ROACH, CUTS UP ON COAT

(Special to The Bee.)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 3.—The earwig is no kin of the earwig. But Portland and Seattle folks are sitting up nights, feeding him. The earwig is a species of cockroach capable of destroying all vegetation. Science calls him "euplexoptera."
A few weeks ago, he reached Seattle in a shipment of plants from Holland. People didn't take him seriously then but two years ago his depredations in Seattle caused consternation there and amusement here. But there's no laughing now that the earwig has entered the Rose City.
City, state and federal authorities are combined in a fight to check the pest. Private organizations are raising special funds, and agricultural college experts are co-operating with entomologists.
For a few weeks after hatching, the cock earwig crawls only at night and is fond of soft foods. Meal, filled with strong poisons, is being distributed nightly by special crews. All efforts are being centered in putting this drive over—for after a few weeks, the earwig is impervious to poison, gas or anything but a club. Some have been placed in a bottle, the bottle corked—and they were still alive ten days later.
In the earwig, nature combined the objectionable properties of the cutworm, caterpillar, cockroach, bedbug, and body louse. He destroys foliage, orchard fruit, makes nests under carpets in homes, infests clothing and carries disease germs.
Therefore, Portland and Seattle are sitting up nights, carrying food to the little earwig. And to prevent a spread of the scourge throughout America, the government is lending every assistance possible.

GETTYSBURG REFOUGHT 60 YEARS AFTERWARD
(By The Associated Press)
GETTYSBURG, Penn., July 2.—From the crest of Little Round Top, veterans of the South and the North today witnessed the re-enactment by modern artillery of the attack they had made and repulsed on the Gettysburg battlefield sixty years ago. The sham battle was a feature of the sixtieth anniversary celebration.
Although on a much smaller scale, the maneuvers of Battery B, Sixteenth United States Field Artillery, recalled vividly to the old soldiers the famous battle in which they had a part. At the conclusion of the maneuvers a salute of twenty-one guns was fired.
Earlier in the day the wearers of the Blue and the Gray gathered at Spangler's springs, where had raged the fiercest fighting in the three-day battle. The veterans marched about the spring arm in arm and in high glee, to the tune of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Formal exercises in connection with the celebration were held on Little Round Top. They included a patriotic address by the Rev. Harry Daniels, of this city, and a brief speech by Theodore McAllister, who told how he had been detailed as a scout to locate the Confederate army which was reported to be in the Cumberland Valley heading towards Harrisburg. Because of the report he made, Gettysburg was the place for the battle, instead of Pipp Creek, Maryland, as had been planned.
RESERVATION WILL NOT IMPAIR NAVAL TREATY
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 30.—On the strength of partial reports reaching Washington, American naval authorities have found no indication that the reservation proposed by France to the Washington conference submarine treaty will seriously impair the effect of the covenant.
Until the complete official text of the proposal is available, however, it is emphasized that it will be impossible to form a definite opinion regarding it.

GEORGE'S NEW HOME—MORGAN'S MANSION TO BE U. S. EMBASSY

BY HARRY B. HUNT
(Special to The Bee.)
WASHINGTON, July 3.—When George H. Morgan returns to dear old Lumberton this fall to resume ambassadorship at the Court of St. James, he will move his satin knickers and other official finery over to the old Pierpont Morgan mansion on Hyde Park Terrace, facing Kensington Gardens.
For while he's away this summer workmen are busy overhauling the former Morgan mansion and making it shipshape for occupancy as the United States embassy. J. P. Junior gave the building and grounds to the government last summer. Congress appropriated money for necessary remodeling, keeping the amount of the appropriation at its original $1,000,000 within the amount paid by J. P. Jr. last year as income tax. So you see, Morgan really foots the whole bill.
While George is renewing boyhood acquaintances this summer up in Peacham, Vt., affairs of the embassy will be handled by Post Wheeler, counselor, four secretaries and a dozen military, naval and commercial attaches.
Whatever else you may think of him, you'll have to agree Hiram Morgan is a big fellow. He is a big fellow, the latter better of California. He is a fox, even. At is understood, he is acquiring outstanding alliances between persons as well as between nations. That's why he plays a lone, it's lonely.
Now take the matter of the approaching Harding speech-making tour to Hiram's home state, on route home from vacationing in Alaska. The senior senator, were he at home on that occasion, could not well refrain from joining in the festivities, whether he felt festive or no. If he joined in the merriment and said kind words about the visiting guest and his administration, he would be limiting his freedom of action next year when Hiram will want lots of freedom. If he joined in the merriment and said kind words about the visiting guest and his administration, he would be limiting his freedom of action next year when Hiram will want lots of freedom.
How fortunate, then, that matters mentioned in Europe which will keep him there until after the presidential election have come and gone! Was it not just happened, we wonder, or did Hiram help the fates arrange it? Your first guess is probably correct. Too bad, too. For Secretary Hoover, another "favorite son" of California, will be there with the president. And there will be big jollifications and speeches. They will miss Hiram, but they'd rather miss than meet him.
That's the way he feels about it, too.
Also, Hiram is a strong believer in the medical use of alcohol. He speaks best who speak last.
And he wants to speak both best and last.
The "early bird" of official Washington is George Otis Smith, former director of the Geological Survey, now member of the U. S. Coal Commission.
Smith normally shows up at his office around 7:30 a. m. That's an hour and a half before stenographers, clerks and secretaries drift in and a good two hours before the average department or bureau "chief" arrives. But Smith finds the early hours, untrodden by visitors and phone calls, are the best for concentration and turning out work. By the time the regular day's business has begun in other offices, Smith has his desk cleared and can take things easy.
Whether Senator Kenneth McKellar of Memphis, Tenn., approves of the Ku Klux Klan, we do not know. But we are certain he understands the Klan, and that comes to all children, old or young, to dress up in spooky costumes and make someone behave by scaring the daylight out of him. For McKellar has tried that very thing himself.
Back near Richmond, Ala., where Kenneth spent his boyhood, there lived an old toper who, following each Saturday night's drunk, would return home and host up his wife and nine children. So the "boys," of whom the future senator was one, decided they'd put fear into his heart.
Sauntering in sheets and pillow slips they waited in a graveyard, near which their victim tied his horse while he was loading up at the crossroads barroom. When he appeared, snoring the path with difficulty, they waited till he was just ready to mount his nag and then descended upon him in mass.
The man ran three miles to his home, collapsed on his doorstep and came near dying from the combination of fright, booze and exhaustion. He behaved better thereafter.

She was the mother of six children.

WILL REPAIR DOOMED BIG FIGHT ARENA

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 2.—Immediate steps will be taken to make whatever repairs are necessary to the big fight arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Promoter Tex Rickard said tonight after Jersey City building inspectors had pronounced the structure unsafe and declared they would withhold a permit for the Jess Willard-Louis Firpo heavyweight match there on July 12 unless conditions were remedied. Heavy strain on the supporting beams of the huge pine saucer had been caused by settling of the ground, inspectors reported. Floor boards also were found to have deteriorated and aisles to be in unsatisfactory condition. Further investigation will be made, building officials said, before final judgment is passed.

NOTICE: TO OWNERS OF CLOSED CARS

In our Upholstering Department, we find that a great many tops on closed cars are damaged due to neglect and it is necessary that they be recovered. When you have had your closed car for ten months or a year, the top should be treated with a coat of top enamel, which will preserve the top and may save the heavy expense of having your top recovered.
This will cost from $1.50 to $2.50, depending on the size of the car. If you will drive your car on the third floor of our building, entering from Lynn Street, we will be very glad to go over this with you and make you a definite price on this work.
